Next Meeting-September 30, 1990-3:00pm in Washington County Library
Date will be reminded in Roanoke Beacon Newspaper & announced on WPNC .

Congratulations to Bobby Dail of Chesapeake, Virginia who was chosen winner for our newsletter cover contest.

Bobby is the son of Sandy & Ron Bascombe of Virginia and Preston & Carol Dail of Tyner, N.C. He is a 17 year old senior at Deep Creek High School. At present, he is taking an art course under the aegis of the American Council of Education. The course is being offered by Art Instruction Schools, Inc. of Minneapolis, Minnesota with 52 credits to any accredited college in the United States.

Bobby Dail

Bobby is an active member of Temple Baptist Church and also active in numerous sports. With the many awards and honors he has received, the Washington County Genealogical Society is proud to award Bobby Dail $10.00 (the price of a year's subscription) as a little token of appreciation for his lovely work.

He is the grandson of one of our members, Donald Jones.

Many thanks also goes out to one of our members, Stanley West who came in second place for his drawing entry for our newsletter cover. All enteries were very much appreciated by our Society.

Our Society feels very honored that the North Carolina Genealogical Society used one of our articles in their paper. The article was "Plank Roads of N.C." which was submitted by Sylvia Whitford. Personally, I like Sylvia's work and you will be reading more articles in future newsletters as well as this issue.

The Genealogical Workshop was held at the Masonic Temple in Washington, N.C. in July. The speakers were outstanding and were: Rev. Nelson A.L. Weller, Helen F.M. Leary, C.G., and Jane Smith Hill. The informative meeting was enjoyed by all. Participating Panelists were: the speakers plus John Oden and R.S. Spencer, Jr. who answered many of our questions. Thanks to all the people who made this workshop a success!

We were happy to have Jimmy Hardison as guest speaker at our last meeting who spoke on the Civil War. He suggested two very good books to study if you are looking for Civil War Ancestors - Plymouth Pilgrims and Iron Clads in Columbia War of a Different Kind. People attending this meeting were from Plymouth, Roper, Jamesville, Washington, Pinetown, Belhaven, Raleigh, Edenton, Creswell, and Ivon, Virginia.

Washington County, North Carolina Land Grants

There are over 184 grants filed under Washington County in the Land Grant Office of the Secretary of State in Raleigh. Many tracts in present-day Washington County were granted prior to its formation in 1799 from Tyrrell County. These earlier grants appear among the 1580 filed under Tyrrell County.

I have listed the Washington County grants with the information that appears on the shucks with two exceptions. Under the listing entitled "location" the description often reads "beginning at a pine" or "on the South side of the Albemarle Sound". I have changed this to list family names, creeks, swamps, etc. that appear in the survey. The names of chain carriers does not appear on the shuck, and since they are important to researchers, I have consulted the surveys and listed them.

For the most part I have spelled names as they appear in the grants.

Saving The Potatoes

by

Sylvia Whitford

During the Civil War all the able bodied men had gone to fight , and the women and children were left at home to do the best they could . Food was scarce and the farm was beginning to suffer , with no men to plow the fields .

My great-great-grandmother had planted a big garden , and with the help of the children had harvested a good crop of Irish potatoes . The war was not going well for the South . Word trickled down that the northern army was only four or five days away .

Great-great-grandmother began to worry about the freshly dug potatoes . Any marching army needs food , and she knew those potatoes were in jeopardy . She also knew without them her family would be hungry , come winter . She was determined to safeguard them well .

It took a full morning for her and the children to hide them . She prayed her hide-away would withstand the scrutiny of a bunch of hungry soldiers .

Sure enough , when the men in blue came down the road they were stopping at every farm , searching for food .

My great-grandfather was just a boy at the time . He was playing in the front yard when the Yankees were sighted coming down the road . The soldiers stopped to talk to the boy . He was fascinated by the uniforms . One young trooper stooped to the boy's level and asked, friendly like , "where's your ma got the spuds hid , boy?"

The soldiers were wise to ask such a young boy , it's a well known fact young children can not keep a secret . He looked at the soldier with a blank face and replied , truthfully , "We ain't got no spuds , mister ."

The soldiers did not even bother to search , knowing such a young tike could not lie . What they didn't know was the boy never heard potatoes called spuds .

And that is the tale , handed down in my family , about how my great-grandfather saved the potatoes from the Yankees .

Elder Henry Robason son of Henry Robason and Sally his wife was Borned at Buncumb Hall , Washington County , N.C. January 3rd 1785 and departed this life February 25th 1872 . aged 87 years (illegible) months and 22 days . Funeral was Preached by Elder Stanly Ayers from the 5-6-7 & 8th verses of 4th Chapt of Timothy . May my last end be like His which was Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord &c 14th Chapter of Revelations . Written by P(?). A(?). Robason his youngest child .

(Book also contains births of five children of Thomas H. Roebuck and his wife Sally Ann from 1840-1848 .)

From overleaf of book titled The Lives of the Apostles of Jesus Christ , published c. 1813 (No Author) New Haven by L.H. Young . Book located in the Disciplina Collection , Library of Atlantic Christian College , Wilson, N.C.

Helping out the neighbors

Vernon Everette made the trip to Washington County from Ivor, Virginia to do a little maintainance on a family cemetery. He then decided to do the same at his grandparent's gravesite at Rehoboth Church. Rather than hit just one spot in the yard of the 140-year-old building, Vernon gave the neighbors a helping hand. Originally an Anglican congregatillon in colonial times, the tiny chuch between Roper and Creswell is now United Methodist.

Bottom Photo : G. J. Cherry Cemetery

We were so pleased to have Vernon Everette, Jr. and his wife to attend our last meeting. They are from Ivor, Virginia. Thank you so much for sharing your family information with us.

The bottom photo is the family cemetery mentioned in top photo. Gisbournne J. Cherry Cemetery is located on private land off of the main highway. It is two miles west of the junction of 32 and 64 going toward Roper, N.C. The driveway is on the right past Holly Neck Road. There is a locked gate on this land now owned by Raymond Spruill. This cemetery is also known as the Noah White Cemetery and Sallie Cherry Davenport Cemetery. There is an ornamental iron fence with the name G. J. Cherry on the gate.

John Freeman owned this land before Noah White. John Freeman is not any of the family but is buried outside the fence (1841).

This cemetery record will be put in our library with others that have been completed. Cherry, Davenport, White, Tankington, Vernon, Wynne, Starr, and Aumack ancestors are included in this record (burials & removals).

A lot of love, time, and hard work was put into this. Thanks again, Vernon for sharing it with us.

Mrs. Kathy Theobald-14235 Bayes Ave.-Lakewood, Ohio 44107

1. Need info on Joshua Wordly Hassell, b. 1786, d. 25 Nov. 1824 near Mackey's Point, N.C. He was buried next to his Uncle Joshua, but where?
2. Need info on Jesse Hassell, who married Mourning Barnes (Leary)? Any b, m, or d. dates. His children were Joshua Wordly, Mourning, Elizabeth, Sarah, and Sydia. He lived in Washington County below Mackey's Creek, within 2 miles of where the creek empties into Albemarle Sound.
3. Seeking info on William Hassell, father of Jesse Hassell, described above. Jesse was his only son. William first settled in Tyrrell County, which was the lower part of Washington County in 1840. Any dates, or where he is buried?
4. Would appreciate any info on Fannie Davis Ange who lived in Angeltown near Jamesville, N.C. (m) Malachi Ange and was 1st cousin to Harriett Davis (m) Malachi Ange after Fannie's death. Davis family was from Lees Mill area of Roper, N.C.
Contact: Stanley West-Route 4, Box 249-B-Washington, N.C. 27889
5. Am seeking any information on the Leggett Cemetery next to the land owned by Jim Porter on Longridge Road in Plymouth, N.C.-Contact: Stanley West (address same as #4).
6. Would appreciate information on Wherry Blount (m) Mary E. Fagan 25 Nov 1861. Wherry is the son of Robert Blount and Elizabeth Smithwick. According to family tradition, Wherry went off to war and did not return. I now think that John William Blount who was living in 1885 was their child. Did she remarry? Did he have any heirs? Please contact: Doris Harrell Sauls-3620 Fernwood Drive-Raleigh, N.C. 27612
7. Need info on Mary Blount, daughter of Robert Blount and Elizabeth Smithwick. Mary (m) Richard W. Leary 4 March 1852 and possibly Elsberry Ambrose 19 Dec 1853. Richard E. Ambrose was possibly their son. Contact: Doris Sauls (address above #6).
8. Seeking any information on Samuel Williams born ca 1785 and his wife Dicey born ca 1796. They are listed in 1850 & 1860 Pitt County, N.C. Census. They had 5 known children. A son, Joel Williams (B) 6 Oct 1826-Pitt County (D) 27 Dec 1895 (m) ca 1857-to Harriett McGowan, (B) ca 1837-40 Pitt County, N.C. Was Harriett McGowan's father Guilford McGowan? Was her mother Lazina Tison? This Williams line ties into a Beppard line that I am researching. Which in turn ties into my Davenport line of Washington County & Beaufort County, N.C.
